The long-awaited fantasy action RPG, out of development since 2002, is finally coming out! Since its announcement, Elden Ring has been a project that has met the eagerness of RPG fans, as well as a project that has been loved by critics. It was created by Senran Kagura producer Kenichiro Takaki and is currently under the leadership of Koji Sugawara, who is currently serving as director and producer. Takaki previously worked as project producer on Senran Kagura, and his thought to create a unique fantasy action RPG has experienced great success. He has since decided to head the project of his own volition as project producer. In order to ensure that a quality product can be delivered, we obtained the backing of Marvelous Entertainment Inc. (the publisher behind Disgaea, Marvelous AQL, Ni No Kuni, Etrian Odyssey, and others) and SHAFT Inc (a company known for producing a wide variety of titles from Fatal Frame to Baby Mustard). By acquiring the rights to their titles, Marvelous and SHAFT have allowed us to enter into an agreement with Clover Studio (see below), and collaborate with them on the development of Elden Ring. SENRAN KAGURA Producer Kenichiro Takaki RETIRED SENRAN KAGURA Producer Senran Kagura I am currently still working on Senran Kagura, as the producer of the final product. I am collaborating closely with the director in this matter, since this project is being overseen by a new producer. I will be working on Elden Ring as an adviser, since I have been involved in Elden Ring for a long time. One of my favorite fantasy RPGs is the Dark Souls series, so there are definitely many ideas in the works regarding combat and information exchange. I want to make an action RPG whose action is both smooth and visceral, so I have ordered the staff to closely examine the action games produced by large publishers and keep in mind the methods used in those games. I have also ordered the staff to play a lot of action RPGs, since a realistic action feel is obtained only by playing many games. The goal is for Elden Ring to have a real sense of slapstick and action, as well as a high degree of action realism. CLOVER STUDIO Co-founder and Director, Naoshi

Action RPG and Real Time Strategy game that combine the action and strategy genres. When enemies are aggressive, a hack-and-slash method is used, when the battle is intense, a Real Time Strategy method is used. In addition to these methods, the game adopts an action-based “sprite system”, a fast and easy method of battle that enables the player to fully enjoy a battle that is extraordinarily vivid. When melee skills are used, an attack called a “Charge” is executed. This is a skill where the players charge to attack. As the charge progresses, the attack becomes stronger, and when there is no way out, a Critical Strike will occur, enabling the player to increase critical damage. By performing actions that return the character to a safe position, you can gain the “Defense” that raises health and damage, and by attacking an enemy that is on its last legs, you can acquire the “Attack” that improves skill accuracy. By equipping items, you can effectively utilize your character’s skills. It is not necessary to move the character’s hand to attack. Your character can freely attack when the appropriate item is equipped. By equipping items that increase the skills of up to 4 levels, you can freely select the attack method that you wish to use. Through the use of the skill “Charge”, you can transfer to areas outside the action range (automatic searching). You can also spend time and get rest by the use of the skill “Decrease”. [GAMEPLAY] In addition to the action, the game also contains Real Time Strategy elements. This means that the players have the opportunity to select the build-up of their own characters, and you can select the best team for the battle. [

What's new in Elden Ring:

Rise, Tarnished, and become an Elden Lord in the Lands Between. Eden. What feeling does this name evoke within you? It is the most peaceful place, and the wholeness that surpasses the abyss. After many a failed life, it is the first time that I seek to regain my former self. However, I cannot find it. I seek the blue orbs that can safely transform my body, but they seem to burn away every time I touch them. I cannot endure this again. I will find a way through this. I must find the answer. I have been traveling for months now, searching for Eden. Resolute, I will certainly find the answer. (Produced by 9amm)

From the creators of Skygarden and The Flower of Juushin, "The Elden Ring" also received the 40th Touhou Project New Year's crowdfunding, as a new intellectual property based in the Touhou Project, and has been added to the game lines of Bandai Namco Entertainment Holdings Inc.'s new 2017 game lineup "Trouble Shooter." The character design is inspired by a painting (Black and White Drawing, Estelle Keppens) created by Hangu Matsuri.

]]>PSO2 Sat, 09 Jan 2019 08:46:09 +0000AratRetro I was sitting here tonight, thinking about the game and a question comes to my mind. Why did we have to wait like forever on the announcement of the development start of the game? As a long time fan of the Touhou Project I couldn't give a single ticket for a result like this, at most I would be able to assume that the game will finally get some serious attention. But as long as we don't start hearing anything about the development start or even more about the game in general, I get the feeling that Square Enix lost control of the game somehow. Why would they do this when they know that we are dying to hear something about it?]]>PSO2 Sat, 09 Jan 2019 08:48:09 +0000Metal-Spider-
